

Vinton, Frederic (1817-1890), collector.

Collection of newspaper accounts concerning the assassination of President Garfield, and the trial of Charles Guiteau.

(Ex) Oversize 10862.378.37e

A
Finding Aid
Prepared
by
Paula B. Entin

Department of Rare Books and Special Collections
Princeton University Library
2004

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

Introduction

Scrapbook consists of newspaper accounts of President James A. Garfield's assassination, and the subsequent trial of Charles Julius Guiteau.

Range of collection dates: 1881

Size: 1 portfolio (188 pieces)

Language: English

Provenance: Frederic Vinton.

Restrictions: Unknown.

Photocopying, literary rights, and citation: Single photocopies may be made for research purposes. No further photoduplication of copies of material in the collection can be made when Princeton University Library does not own the original. Permission to publish material from the collection must be requested from the Associate University Librarian for Rare Books and Special Collections. The library has no information on the status of literary rights in the collection and researchers are responsible for determining any questions of copyright. Citations should be as follows: Frederic Vinton. Collection of newspaper accounts concerning the assassination of President Garfield, and the trial of Charles Guiteau, no. #, Department of Rare Books and Special Collections, Princeton University Library.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

Scope Note

The single newspaper issues are contemporary accounts that cover the assassination of the president and the resulting political issues. On July 2, 1881, after only four months in office, Garfield was shot in the back at the railroad station in Washington, D.C., by Charles J. Guiteau, a disappointed office seeker who wanted the Stalwart Chester A. Arthur to be president. Because of an ambiguity in the Constitution, opinion was divided as to whether the vice president was empowered by the Constitution to assume the powers and duties of the office of president, or merely serve as acting president until Garfield recovered. Because Congress was not in session, the problem could not be resolved in Congress. On September 2, 1881, the matter came before a cabinet meeting, where it was finally agreed that no action would be taken without first consulting Garfield. But in the opinion of the doctors this was impossible, and no further action was taken before the death of the president, the result of slow blood poisoning, on September 19th. Chester Alan Arthur became the 21st president of the United States.

After Garfield's funeral, Guiteau's trial began. The trial lasted from 13 November 1881 to 5 January 1882. The bizarre antics of the defendant who sang, raved, and interrupted the proceedings at will, may have been intended to support the defense's contention that Guiteau was insane. However, the jury ruled him guilty after deliberating for only an hour and five minutes. The trial served as a showcase for the infant discipline of psychiatry, and it underlined the deficiencies of the prevailing M'Naghten rule, which held that defendants could be deemed legally insane only if they failed to understand the consequences of their actions. By that standard Guiteau was clearly sane, despite his apparent derangement. He was hanged in Washington, D.C., on 30 June 1882

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

Arrangement

Materials are organized chronologically.

Leaf: Issue:

1. "A change for the better: The President's condition much improved." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9306), July 6, 1881.
2. "Still improving: The President passes a comfortable night without any relapse at sundown." The World, New York (vol. 32 no. 7260), July 6, 1881.
3. "Rays of hope: Continued improvement of President Garfield." New York Herald, New York, July 6, 1881.
4. "The President better: No change for the worse up to Midnight." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 309), July 6, 1881.
5. "Marked improvement: The President takes nourishment freely, gains strength and continues cheerful and confident." The World, New York (vol. 32 no. 7261), July 7, 1881.
6. "The President: The Angel of Hope still hovering near him: No bad symptoms reported." New York Herald, New York (no. 16390), July 7, 1881.
7. "Odds in his favor: Cheering utterance of President Garfield's physician." New York Herald, July 8, 1881.
8. "On the way to recovery: a hopeful day at the White House." New York Daily Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12656), July 10, 1881.
9. "The best day yet: President Garfield now free from fever and able to move in bed." The World, New York (vol. 32, no. 7268), July 14, 1881.
10. "Hourly increasing hope: The President's chance for life said to be much better." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 317), July 14, 1881.
11. "Another good day: The President free from fever and eating solid food heartily: An authentic account of Guiteau's proceeding leading up to the crime." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7269), July 15, 1881.
12. "The story of the crime: The official account of the shooting of the President." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 318), July 15, 1881.
13. "Passing the danger line: Questions as to the actual condition of the President." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 321), July 18, 1881.
14. "President Garfield: His condition still reassuring." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12665), July 19, 1881.
15. "A marked improvement: The fever symptoms of Monday Disappear, and the President eats and sleeps well." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7274), July 20, 1881.
16. "President Garfield: His steady advance to recovery." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41 no. 12667), July 21, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

17. "The President mending: Steady headway along the road to recovery." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16405), July 22, 1881.
18. "The President's condition: Cotton and woolen fibre discharged from the wound." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 325), July 22, 1881.
19. "A satisfactory day: The President relieved by Sunday's operation, and slowly recovering from the relapse." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7280), July 26, 1881.
20. "Excellent progress: The President taking nourishment freely and the wound beginning to heal." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7262), July 28, 1881.
21. "The President's progress: His physicians announce rapid improvement." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9328), August 1, 1881.
22. "President Garfield: His recovery now doubted by few." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12678), August 1, 1881.
23. "Still better reports: The President sleeping and eating well and a gradual increase in strength plainly observable." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7286), August 1, 1881.
24. "The wounded President: A happy Sabbath in the White House." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16415), August 1, 1881.
25. "The President's condition: Encouraging reports from the attending physicians." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 335), August 1, 1881.
26. "President Garfield: His improvement still unchecked." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12679), August 2, 1881.
27. "Steadily improving: The President passes another quiet day on the road to convalescence." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7287), August 2, 1881.
28. "President Garfield: His favorable progress unchecked." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12680), August 3, 1881.
29. "The President's progress: Maintaining his improvement and gaining strength." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16417), August 3, 1881.
30. "President Garfield: His steady advance to recovery." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12681), August 4, 1881.
31. "An eye-witness of the shooting." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9332), August 5, 1881.
32. "President Garfield: Recovery now confidently predicted." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41 no. 12682), August 5, 1881.
33. "Steadily improving: The President passes another comfortable day, and the physicians talking of moving him." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7290), August 5, 1881.
34. "The President's improvement: Symptoms that encourage the physicians and the public." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16419), August 5, 1881.
35. "The President: Continued progress toward recovery – physicians happy at the marked improvement." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16420), August 6, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

36. "President Garfield: The symptoms not unfavorable." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12685), August 8, 1881.
37. "Relieving the President: Another successful operation performed." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9335), August 9, 1881.
38. "The President improving: His general condition much better." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9337), August 11, 1881.
39. "President Garfield: No marked change in his condition." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12689), August 12, 1881.
40. "The President gaining: In better than at any time since the last operation." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9340), August 15, 1881.
41. "President Garfield: Slow progress of the patient." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12692), August 15, 1881.
42. "Hope for the President: Very little change, but that little favorable." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9342), August 17, 1881.
43. "The President: His condition scarcely changed from that of yesterday: Hoping for the best: The present weakness due to an inability to take food naturally: The physicians reticent: Apprehensions felt all over the country lest the relapse might prove fatal." The World, New York (vol. 32, no. 7302), August 17, 1881.
44. "Still alive: President Garfield continues his brave struggle for live: A grave crisis." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16431), August 17, 1881.
45. "President Garfield: His condition not forbidding hope." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12696), August 19, 1881.
46. "Further improvement: The President takes and retains nine ounces of koumiss and beef extract." The World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7304), August 19, 1881.
47. "Hopeful: New source of anxiety in the President's case: septicaemia appears." New York Herald, New York, August 19, 1881.
48. "The President improving: A week which began with grave fears ending with hope." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 354), August 20, 1881.
49. "The President: A little trouble with his stomach attributed to his efforts to clear his throat mucus." The New York World, New York (vol. 32, no. 7307), August 22, 1881.
50. "The President's desire: Asking to be removed from the White House." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9349), August 25, 1881.
51. "The President no better: An incision made to relieve the swelling of his neck." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 350), August 25, 1881.
52. "A gloomy day: The President extremely weak and gaining no strength from the nourishment." The New York World, New York (vol. 32, no. 7310), August 26, 1881.
53. "Marked improvement: The President's condition gives the doctors new hope and fills the nurses with confidence." The New York World, New York (vol. 32, no. 7314), August 29, 1881.
54. "Hope reborn: Continuance of the President's favorable symptoms." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16443), August 29, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

55. "Growing stronger: The President still in a critical state but better." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no. 363), August 29, 1881.
56. "Signs of improvement: The President's condition continuing favorable." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9353), August 30, 1881.
57. "The President gaining: A cheerful feeling at Washington." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12707), August 30, 1881.
58. "Confidence returning: The improvement in the President's condition satisfactorily maintained." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7315), August 30, 1881.
59. "Still improving: Continuance of the President's favorable symptoms." The New York World, New York (no. 16444), August 30, 1881.
60. "Yet another day gained: The President no stronger, but holding his own." The Sun, New York (vol. 48, no 364), August 30, 1881.
61. "President Garfield: The sick man holding his own well." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12708), August 31, 1881.
62. "A very favorable day: The President showing marked improvement." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9355), September 1, 1881.
63. "Returning confidence: The President begins to gain strength slowly and to take solid food again." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7317), September 1, 1881.
64. "The President doing well: A slight gain of strength said to be perceptible." The Sun, New York (vol. 49, no. 1), September 1, 1881.
65. "Advancing very slowly: The President's condition showing little change." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9356), September 2, 1881.
66. "Slow but sure progress: The President to be taken to Long Branch." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9357), September 3, 1881.
67. "Still improving slowly: Preparing to remove the President from Washington." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9357), September 4, 1881.
68. "Not gaining or losing: A gastric disturbance impedes improvement." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 93858), September 5, 1881.
69. "Taking the one chance: Completing arrangements for the President's removal." The Sun, New York (vol. 49, no. 5), September 5, 1881.
70. "Ready for the journey: The President to be taken to Long Branch today." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9359), September 6, 1881.
71. "Taken from Washington: The President safely removed to the sea-side." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9360), September 7, 1881.
72. "At rest by the sea: The President safely moved in seven hours to Elberon." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16452), September 7, 1881.
73. "Not gaining in strength: The President holding his own but not rallying." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 93601), September 8, 1881.
74. "At Elberon: Bad effects of the heat on the President." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16453), September 8, 1881.
75. "The President very weak: A high fever that fatigue and the heat do not explain." The Sun, New York (vol. 49, no. 8), September 8, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

76. "The President's best day: His condition growing more and more hopeful." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30 no. 9363), September 10, 1881.
77. "Steps toward recovery: Decided improvement in the President's condition." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no 9363), September 11, 1881.
78. "Not so well as Saturday: An increase in pulse, temperature, and respiration." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9364), September 12, 1881.
79. "President Garfield: Some ground for anxiety." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41, no. 12720), September 12, 1881.
80. "An unfavorable day: Rise in the President's pulse and fears of an abscess in the right lung." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7328), September 12, 1881.
81. "New Complication: Metastatic abscesses on the President's lungs." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16457), September 12, 1881.
82. "Fearing the worst again: An abscess upon the President's right lung discovered." The Sun, New York (vol. 49 no. 12), September 12, 1881.
83. "No better, no worse: Comfortable day passed by the President." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16460), September 16, 1881.
84. "A day of good progress: The President a little better than on Wednesday." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9368), September 16, 1881.
85. "Another good day: The President eating and sleeping well and his cough gradually leaving him." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7332), September 16, 1881.
86. "At Francklyn Cottage: Unchanged condition of the weary patient." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16461), September 16, 1881.
87. "Surgeon Bliss outvoted: A bulletin that tells the truth about the President." The Sun, New York (vol. 49 no. 16), September 16, 1881.
88. "The President Dead: He Expires at half-past ten last night." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9371), September 20, 1881.
89. "The Dead President: A Nation in Mourning for the Chief Magistrate lying in the Long Beach cottage." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7337), September 21, 1881.
90. "The Nation's dead Chief: President Garfield's body taken to Washington." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9373), September 22, 1881.
91. "At Washington again: The remains of President Garfield conveyed from the Elberon cottage to the Capital." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7338), September 22, 1881.
92. "Lying in state: The dead President in the Rotunda of the Capital." The New York Herald, New York, September 22, 1881.
93. "The body lying in state: The dead President carried sorrowfully to the capital." The Sun, New York (vol. 49, no. 22). September 22, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

94. "Looking upon the dead: Crowds of people reverently passing Garfield's bier." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31 no. 9374), September 23, 1881.
95. "The dead President: Awaiting the final journey." New York Tribune, New York (vol. 41 no. 12731), September 23, 1881.
96. "Lying in state: Over a hundred thousand people view the remains of the late President." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7339), September 23, 1881.
97. "The Nation's dead: Day of humiliation and mourning appointed." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16468), September 23, 1881.
98. "The new administration" and "The nation in mourning" and "The body lying in state." The Sun, New York (vol. 49, no. 23), September 23, 1881.
99. "At the window – A brief respite in a weary struggle." Harper's Weekly (vol. 25 no. 1292), September 24, 1881.
100. "The day before burial." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9376), September 26, 1881.
101. "The funeral today." The New York World, New York (vol. 22, no. 7342), September 26, 1881.
102. "At home: Cleveland honoring the dead President" and "Pulpit wreaths: The great theme upon which ministers discoursed yesterday." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16471), September 26, 1881.
103. "Ready for the interment." The Sun, New York (vol. 49 no. 26), September 26, 1881.
104. "The last sad rites." The New York World, New York (vol. 22 no. 7343). September 27, 1881.
105. "At rest: After life's fitful fever he sleeps well." The New York Herald, New York (no. 16472), September 27, 1881.
106. "After all." Harper's Weekly, New York (vol. 25 no. 1293), October 1, 1881.
107. "New Jersey – The late President's last view of the ocean from his reclining chair at Elberon." Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, New York (vol. 53 no. 1357) October 1, 1881.
108. "The funeral of President Garfield – The Catafalque at Cleveland." Harper's Weekly, New York (vol. 25, no. 1294), October 8, 1881.
109. "The Nation's loss: The death of President Garfield." Frank Leslie's Illustrated, New York (vol. 53 no. 1358), October 8, 1881.
110. "Funeral of the martyr-president at Cleveland, Ohio." Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, New York (vol. 53 no. 1559), October 15, 1881.
111. "Garfield's fatal wounds: Four eminent surgeons discuss the case." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31 no. 9420), November 16, 1881.
112. "All the jurors chosen: Preparations finished for the trial of the assassin." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9421), November 17, 1881.
113. "Proving Guiteau's Crime: The testimony of Mr. Blaine and other eye witnesses." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9422), November 18, 1881.

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

114. "Guiteau's dastardly act: Further evidence against Garfield's murderer." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9423), November 19, 1881.
115. "A shot at the assassin: Guiteau fired at while in the prison van." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9423), November 20, 1881.
116. "At the national capital: The assassin and his assailant." The New York Tribune New York (vol. 41, no. 12790), November 21, 1881.
117. "Guiteau's defense begun." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9425), November 22, 1881.
118. "Guiteau's insanity plea." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9426), November 23, 1881.
119. "English view of the Guiteau trial." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9427), November 24, 1881.
120. "Two witnesses for Guiteau." The New York Times, New York. (vol. 31, no. 9428), November 25, 1881.
121. "A threat to gag Guiteau." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9429), November 26, 1881.
122. "Stories about Guiteau: Gen. Logan and the assassin's sister examined." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9429), November 27, 1881.
123. "The Garfield Autopsy: Dr. Lamb relates the manner in which the bullet was found" and "Stories about Guiteau." The New York Times, New York (vol. 30, no. 9430), November 28, 1881.
124. "Possessed of a demon: Guiteau's brother damages the insanity claim." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31 no. 9431), November 29, 1881.
125. "The assassin testifies: The main incidents of his life given in detail." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9432), November 30, 1881.
126. "Guiteau's 'Inspiration:' The Assassin talks of his crime and its cause." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9433), December 1, 1881.
127. "Guiteau's day of torture: The Assassin driven into a maze of contradictions." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9434), December 2, 1881.
128. "Guiteau's story finished: The Assassin makes some damaging admissions." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9435), December 3, 1881.
129. "Foreign indifference to Guiteau" and "The Assassin's Defense." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9435), December 4, 1881.
130. "Shamming insanity." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9436), December 5, 1881.
131. "Guiteau's Mental State." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9437) December 6, 1881.
132. "Guiteau's Defense Ended." The New York Times, New York (Vol. 31, no. 9438) December 7, 1881. p. 3
133. "Guiteau's Insanity Plea." The New York Times, New York (Vol. 31, no. 9439) December 8, 1881.
134. "Guiteau's Bad Character." The New York Times, New York (vol. 31, no. 9440) December 9, 1881

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

135. "Guiteau's Life of Crime." The New York Times, New York (Vol. 31, no. 9441) December 10, 1881. p.3
136. "The Guiteau Trial Thus Far" The New York Times, New York (Vol. 31, no. 9442) December 12, 1881, p. 4.
137. "What Dr Spitzka thinks: Satisfying that the Assassin is Insane." The New York Times, New York (Vol. 31, no. 9443), December 13, 1881, p. 2
138. "More Medical Opinions: New York Doctors disagree in Guiteau's case." The New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9444) December 14, 1881, p.3
139. "One of the Jurors Sick." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9445) December 15, 1881
140. "Upsetting the Defense." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9446) December 16, 1881
141. "Proving Guiteau Sane," New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9447) December 17, 1881
142. "The Assassin in Court: Sketches of the Actors in the Great State Trial." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9448) December 19, 1881
143. "The Guiteau Trail Delayed: One of the Jurors Excused...to attend Wife's Funeral." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9449) December 20, 1881 p.2
- 144.** "Guiteau and his Counsel: Prisoner desires to cross-examine experts." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9450) December 21, 1881. Phrenology discussion.
145. "Guiteau's Trial Resumed." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9451) December 22, 1881. p. 3
146. "The Habits of Lunatics: Another expert pronounces Guiteau Sane." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9452) December 23, 1881. p. 3
147. "The Great Murder Trial: Two More Experts who Believe in Guiteau's Sanity." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9453) December 24, 1881
148. "How Guiteau spent Christmas." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9454) December 26, 1881
149. "Guiteau's Christmas Holiday: Still Confident of Acquittal." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9455) December 27, 1881
150. "Is Guiteau Acting a Part." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9456) December 28, 1881. p.3
151. "Guiteau Put in the Dock: Another Day of Disgraceful Scenes in Court." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9457) December 29, 1881.
152. "The Assassin in the Dock: His Conduct as Disgraceful as Ever." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9458) December 30, 1881.
153. "Guiteau's Insolent Boast: He says He Will Laugh the Case Out of Court." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9459) December 31, 1881.
- 154.** Can't find an article in New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9460) January 2, 1882
155. "Guiteau's New Year Levee: A crowd of visitors." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9461) January 3, 1882

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

156. "The Trial Nearing an End: Objections to the Defense Covering Old Ground." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9462) January 4, 1882. p. 2
157. "The Testimony all Taken: New Evidence For Guiteau Not Admitted." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9463) January 5, 1882
158. "The Case Nearing an End: Probable Close of the Guiteau Trial Next Week." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9464) January 6, 1882
159. "Garfield Relics: Disposition of those Presented to the State of Ohio." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9465) January 7, 1882 p.2
- 160.** Can't find an article in New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9466) January 9, 1882
161. "One of the Experts for Guiteau," New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9467) January 10, 1882
162. "The Law Points Decided: A scathing review of Guiteau's Case by Mr. Porter." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9468) January 11, 1882 p. 3
163. "Judge Cox's Decisions: What is Thought of Them by the Leading Lawyers in this City," "Opinions in Washington: Both Sides Pleased with Judge Cox's rulings – Guiteau preparing his speech," "Status of Garfield for Ohio." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9469) January 12, 1882 p. 3
164. "Summing up the Evidence: Mr. Davidge beings his plea for the government." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9470) January 13, 1882 p. 3
165. "Guiteau's Guilty Life: Mr. Davidge Concludes his Argument." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9471) January 14, 1882 p. 3
166. "The Assassin to the Jury: Guiteau bound to be heard despite Judge Cox." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9472) January 16, 1882
167. "Mr. Scoville's Complaint: He Begins his Argument by Finding Fault." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9473) January 17, 1882 p. 3
168. "Scoville's Long Speech: More Abuse Heaped upon the Prosecution." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9474) January 18, 1882 p. 2
169. "Scoville Still Talking: He Abuses Arthur Grant, and Conkling." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9475) January 19, 1882 p. 3
170. "Trying to Save Guiteau: Scoville's Abusive Speech Still Unfinished." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9476) January 20, 1882. p. 3
171. "Scoville's Speech Ended: Guiteau to Close the Case in His Own Behalf." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9478) January 21, 1882 p. 3
172. "A Happy Day for Guiteau: He Delivers his Speech to the Jury." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9465) January 22, 1882 p. 5
- 173.** Can't find an article in New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9466) January 23, 1882
174. "The Last Argument Begun: Guiteau's Motives and Acts Laid Bare by Mr. Porter." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9467) January 24, 1882
175. "Guiteau's Acts Analyzed: Mr. Porter Resumes his Address to the Jury." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9468) January 25, 1882

Collection of Garfield and Guiteau.

176. "Guiteau found Guilty: The Jury Deliberates only a Few Minutes." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9469) January 26, 1882 [Entire front page devoted to trial and opinions]
177. [No related article] New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9470) January 28, 1882
178. "Guiteau Asking Retrial: The Alleged Facts and New Evidence for the Defense." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9471) January 29, 1882
179. "Snyder's Affidavit: Scoville's Latest Charge Denied." New York Daily Tribune, New York, January 30, 1882.
180. "Guiteau's Forlorn Hope: Arguments For and Against a New Trial." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9489) February 4, 1882
181. "Guiteau to be hanged: The Assassin to be hanged on June 30." New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9489 (ii)) February 5, 1882
182. "Guiteau to be hanged: The Assassin to suffer death on June 30." New York Weekly Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no.1586) February 8, 1882
183. "The Assassin: Mrs. Garfield Denies Having Intervened to Save Guiteau." The New York Herald, February 13, 1882 p. 3 (No front page)
184. "In Memory of Garfield: Mr. Blaine's Eulogy Before the Houses of Congress" The New York Times, New York, (Vol. 31, no. 9509) February 28, 1882
185. "Reasoning Mania: Guiteau and the Medico-Legal Society." The New York Tribune, New York, (Vol. 41, no. 12891), March 2, 1882
186. "A Last Plea for Guiteau: Mr. Scoville Presents Points Against the Conviction and Withdraws from the Case." The New York Times, New York, Monday, (Vol. 31, no. 9556) April 24, 1882
187. "Extra! Hanged!! Guiteau's Doom." The Evening Star, Washington D.C., (Vol. 59, no. 9110) June 30 1882. Incl. Diagram of jail and engraving of "Guiteau at the Scaffold." Pages 1, 2, 3, 6,7 contain articles on various aspects of Guiteau, the trial and his imprisonment.
188. "Expiation: Charles Guiteau Hanged for the Murder of the President." The Washington Post, Washington DC, (No. 1539) Includes portraits of Rev. W.W. Hicks, The Assassin's Clergyman; Last photograph of Guiteau; President Garfield shortly after the murder; engravings of The Last Prayer in the Cell; Exterior View of the Jail; The Death Watch; The Procession to the Gallows; The Scaffold. June 30, 1882